

only the first one of the sub-sample (being the year of the selection of the concerned household). However, the recorded information, always refers to the situation at the time the concerned household is selected. The above definition also applies to the new entries from the second wave onwards.