

recorded. The questions on income should be split into relevant components where, for each component, it should be first explored what are the national taxation rules and then decide how to ask about net and gross values.