DESCRIPTION

Remote education: “Remote education” shall be understood as learning when the student and the teacher/educator are not physically present in a traditional classroom environment. Information is relayed online through educational classes or activities with actual teacher/ educator. Only the actual number of hours spent with direct connection with the teacher/educator should be taken into account. Direct connection can be in real time or with the use of videos or recordings prepared specifically to meet educational needs of the child. Time spent in voluntary activities such as watching other videos or listening to recordings should be excluded. Time spent doing homework should also be excluded.

The remote education should not be included in variables RL010-RL030.

Suggested question:

During a usual week how many hours does your child spend in remote education?
