DESCRIPTION

The concept of shoes has to be understood in a broad sense and adapted to the climatic conditions of the countries concerned (including both boots and sandals).

On the other hand, all-weather shoes (excluding sandals and boots) could be defined as any daily life shoes. Daily life shoes should be shoes the respondent can wear most days e.g., to work.

Suggested question:

Do you have two pairs of shoes in a good condition that are suitable for daily activities?

(Note: Two pairs of properly fitting shoes, suitable for daily activities including a pair of all-weather shoes)
